ALLEGRINI: SAN POLO, POGGIO AL TESORO

Allegrini Marilisa

CEO & Owner Family

Marilisa has been responsible for marketing since 1980: guided by an instinctive passion for wine, she promotes Allegrini wines and the Valpolicella area throughout the world. Marilisa also cast her eye further afield to other areas of Italy renowned for their viticultural excellence and set out on a fascinating 'adventure' in Tuscany: in 2001, with her brother Walter, she founded Poggio al Tesoro in Bolgheri and in 2006, in partnership with Leonardo Lo Cascio, she purchased San Polo, a beautiful Estate in Montalcino.

"My passion for wine was born with my birth. My family has been producing wine for a long time. When I was young, at home my father spoke of wine. It is a passion that I have in the DNA."

CAMBRIA

Barbara Banke

Founder and Owner

For 30 years, the Jackson family has sustainably farmed our remarkable Santa Maria estate. Barbara Banke's daughters, Katie Jackson and Julia Jackson, grew up among these vines. Together with Barbara Banke's keen knowledge of the industry and incredible business sense, Katie's passion for sustainability, and Julia's creative backbone,

"I like to see a parcel of land or vineyard and if it has potential, to make it better, take perfect soil, a perfect location - and know that you can turn it into something that's world-class."

Jill Delariva Russel

Winemaker

Russell developed her winemaking and regional expertise as assistant winemaker at Stephen Ross Wine Cellars in San Luis Obispo, followed by a harvest with Domaine Henry Pelle in Morogues, France. She returned to California in 2015 and served as assistant winemaker at Paul Lato Wines, focusing on Pinot Noir from Santa Maria Valley and St. Rita Hills. A longtime San Luis Obispo resident, Russell has a bachelor's degree in wine and viticulture from California Polytechnic State University.

"Cambria played an integral role in establishing the Santa Maria Valley as a premier wine region, and I'm honored to be able to continue the tradition of world-class, cool-climate winemaking that showcases the special nuances of this estate. The women of Cambria shape who we are today."

DOMAINES JEAN-CLAUDE COURTAULT

Stéphanie Courtault-Michelet

Winemaker and Owner Family

Domaine Jean-Claude Courtault and Domaine Stéphanie et Vincent Michelet. The former was created by Stéphanie's father, Jean-Claude Courtault, back in the 1980's, while the latter is a more recent creation by Stéphanie and her husband Vincent. In 2004, Stéphanie's husband and her bought a parcel of village Chablis in Beine, just south of Lignorelles.

"Making wine is as taking care of a child. A wine demands lot of attention when it is young, then you look at it growing with pride as it is aging, and finally you have to let it go and conquer the world."

VALENTINE ZUSSLIN

Marie Zusslin

Winemaker and Owner

At Domaine Valentin Zusslin, where Marie Zusslin and her brother, Jean-Paul, have managed the estate since 2008. Established in 1691 by M. Jodocus CISLE (former name of Zusslin), Domaine Valentin ZUSSLIN is now run by two generations of the Zusslin family who are following in the footsteps of their forebears.

The winery is based in Orschwihr, south of Colmar, and the vines are planted on the slopes of the Bollenberg, Clos Liebenberg and Grand Cru Pfingstberg. In 1997 the domaine converted to biodynamic viticulture. Much of the work in the vineyard and in the cellar is done by hand, in order that the grapes can express the full potential of the unique terroirs of the Domaine.

"It is the most fascinating work, you have to deal with the nature, follow the rhythm of the plants, to observe the environment. You have to be modest face to all the elements and be in relation to them. My goal: sublimate the Terroirs."
